Secom Case Reading Preparation

Discussion Questions

In your reading of this case, consider the following questions.

1. Who is involved, what were their roles and responsibilities? What institutions (companies or government agencies) were involved?
2. In the current setting of the case, what part of the decisions facing Sekine regard “prevention” security strategies and what part regard “response” security strategies? How do these relate?
3. Depending on the decisions taken by Sekine, who will most greatly benefit or suffer from these decisions and how?
4. If these decisions were yours to take, what would you do and why?
5. Is this a real case or fictional case? Is there any further information about this case?
